Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-21 have been examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-5, 7-12 and 14-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Peled et al. U.S. Pub. No. 20020129140 (hereinafter Peled).

4. As per claim 1, Peled discloses a method comprising: maintaining a plurality of stored signatures, each signature being associated with one of a plurality of registered documents (Peled: [0013]: signature of protected data is stored); intercepting an object being transmitted over a network (Peled: [0020]); calculating a set of signatures associated with the intercepted object (Peled: [0022]: extract signature); and comparing the set of signatures with the plurality of stored signatures (Peled: [0020]: comparator).

5. As per claim 2, Peled discloses the method of claim 1. Peled further discloses wherein each registered document is associated with a user that registered the document (Peled: [0011]: protect rightful usage and privacy of users).

Art Unit: 2131

6. As per claim 3, Peled discloses the method of claim 2. Peled further discloses if the comparison results in a match of at least one of the signatures in the set of signatures with one or more of the plurality of stored signatures, then detecting registered content from the registered document being contained in the intercepted object (Peled: [0027]: multilevel description includes signature).

7. As per claim 4, Peled discloses the method of claim 2. Peled further discloses alarming the user that registered the registered the registered document in response to detecting the registered content (Peled: [0092]: taking enforcement action).

8. As per claim 5, Peled discloses the method of claim 4. Peled further discloses halting delivery of the intercepted object (Peled: [0079]).

9. As per claim 7, Peled discloses the method of claim 1. Peled further discloses wherein calculating the set of signatures of the intercepted document comprises calculating a plurality of hashes over one or more portions of the intercepted object (Peled: [0057]: hash).

10. As per claim 8-12 and 14-20, claims 8-12 and 14-20 encompass the same scope as claims 1-5 and 7. Therefore, claims 8-12 and 14-20 are rejected based on the same reasons set forth above in rejecting claims 1-5 and 7.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

11. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

12. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Peled in view of Koike U.S. Pub. No. 20030084300 (hereinafter Koike).

13. As per claim 6, 13 and 21, Peled discloses the method of claims 5, 12 and 20 respectively. Peled does not explicitly disclose prompting the user that registered the registered document for permission to deliver the intercepted object, receiving permission from the user, and completing delivery of the intercepted object in response to receiving permission. However, Koike discloses when a privacy data administrator detects a match in the privacy filter, transmit a inquiry to user as to whether it is allowed to provide the data, and provide data upon permission by user (Koike: [0024]). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to allow the owner of the data to determine the action to be performed upon detection of unauthorized transport because both prior art disclose prevention of protected data from unauthorized access. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to combine the teachings of Koike within the system of Peled because it enforces dynamic rules on the user preference.

Conclusion

14. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Hydrie et al. U.S. Pat. No. 7093288 discloses using packet filters and network virtualization to restrict network communications.

Chen et al. U.S. Pub. No. 20040001498 discloses method for propagating content filters for a publish-subscribe network.

Tarquini U.S. Pub. No. 20030084326 discloses method for identifying data in a network exploit.

Tajima et al. U.S. Pub. No. 20030028493 discloses personal information management system.
